Financial Assistance

Describe payment plan options if applicable:

Members can pay the full balance at the beginning of the semester. If members are unable to pay the balance in full, they have the option to apply for a payment plan consisting of three installments of the semester's chapter dues/fees. All members including new members are eligible to apply for the payment plan.

Separate from the chapter dues/fees, the parlor fee is split up into four payments throughout the semester for all active members regardless of payment plan status. Members have the option to pay the fee in full, but the installments are the default payment method. New members must pay the fee in full, and do not have the parlor fee installment option.
